With multiple profiles of Cedar Impressions®, Board & Batten and Vertical Siding to choose from, the possible ways to accent your home are endless.

Fast fact:

Are shingles and shakes the same thing?

Usually, a shingle is sawn on both sides and is thinner at the butt than a shake. A shake is typically split on one or both sides. Shakes are generally thicker with more aggressive, rougher texture that is far less precise than that of a shingle.

Wall & Soffit Transitions

Trim provides a beautiful transition between two styles of siding. On long expanses of board & batten or soffit, a trim piece offers a way to add a signature outline or focal point. Also, consider a trim piece to transition from the wall up to the soffit.

Fast fact:

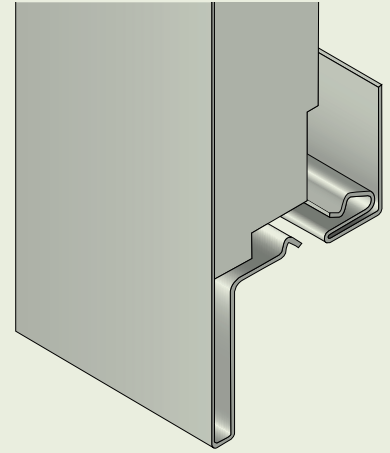

Band [Belly] Board:
Typically 5"- 6" reveal, can be used as a starter course for siding, a frieze board, a bold line separating levels of a house, or a transition piece in installations where siding alternates between horizontal, vertical and/or specialty profiles.

Band Board with foam insert

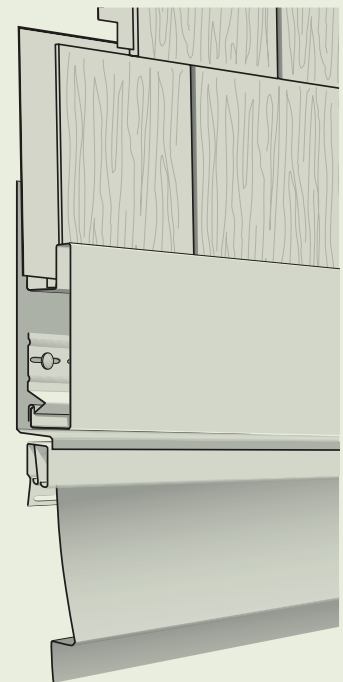

Create a transition using a band board with foam insert, or create your transition using a wide-faced lineal.

A band board makes an excellent wall transition.

This home has a warm theme and the colors are stronger than a typical home.

Trim Color Combinations

Traditional white trim accentuates windows cleanly with any color siding, as shown below. Other options (left) include a more subtle combination, with trim and siding closer in hue and intensity; or a reversal of dark trim with light siding as a powerful way to frame your home.

Siding: Cedar Impressions Double 7" Perfection Shingles in Sterling Gray and Single 6-1/3" Perfection Scallops in Granite Gray
Trim: Restoration Millwork in Natural White. Corner Trim is Cedar Impressions matching mitered corner in Sterling Gray
Roof: Landmark in Moire Black
